Summary of reasons for decision:

This DVD contains extra material relating to a feature that has been previously classified. The feature was originally examined as a 35mm film by the Office of Film and Literature Classification (OFLC No. 1000675, registered on 11 May 2010). The film was classified “Objectionable except if the availability of the publication is restricted to persons who have attained the age of 16 years” with the descriptive note “Contains drug use, sex scenes and offensive language.”

A Blu-ray disc (OFLC 1001625.000) containing the feature and some extra components was given the same classification and was registered on 21 October 2010. The Blu-ray disc received the same classification and descriptive note.

This DVD contains some of the components that were classified as part of the Blu-ray disc, namely five music videos and three documentaries. Other extra material that didn’t appear on the Blu-ray disc includes some gag reels, alternate and deleted scenes, interviews, and an episode of the popular television show 30 Rock.

The DVD's treatment of sex, crime, highly offensive language and sexual references is similar to the original film, and to the Blu-ray disc. As such the same classification and descriptive note remain suitable for this disc.
